Soloists, Ensembles From L-W, Sandburg Seek State Honors

Soloists and ensembles from Carl Sandburg High school entered class "AA" competition in the IHSA district music contest at Crete-Monee High school last Saturday and made the finest showing in the history of the school.

The 16 superior ratings and 18 excellent ratings brought home by instrumentalists and vocalists was the greatest number ever won in a contest by Sandburg music students. The accomplishment is even more commendable in light of the competition, which included Joliet, Morton, LaGrange, Oak Lawn, Bremen and other south west suburban schools. Schools with a population of 1,100 or over are designated class AA.

Altho no overall winner is named in the contest, Sandburg certainly ranked among the top two place winners. The first place winners advance to the state finals for AA schools to be held at York high school at Elmhurst on May 1 and 2.

A complete list of the winners is as follows:

Superior ratings: Richard Scherubel, clarinet; Ron Scherubel, cornet; Lester Mahaffey, bass horn; Ken Gribum, bass horn; Sandra Mayhall, trombone; Marcia Mammel, baton; Harry Stevens, tympani; Terry McBurney, cornet; Bob Schneider, baritone horn.

Terry McBurney, Judy Gailbreath and Ron Scherubel, cornet trio; Sandra Mayhall, Sheila Sundquist and Nancy Rodwick, trombone trio; Richard Scherubel, Kathy Mortenson, Francis Wood and Roger Brown, clarinet quartet; and Marge Kimmel, Bill Agnew, Doug Blount and Marshall Mortenson also in a clarinet quartet, all won superior ratings.

Add Police to Civil Defense Unit at Mokena

Anthony Dina, director civil defense for Mokena, has been authorized by the village board to organize an auxiliary volunteer police force. Action to this end was taken by the Mokena village board at its meeting Tuesday night.

Plans are to raise a force of 20 members. Prospective members will be screened by the village board, state police and the sheriff's office. The volunteers will undergo 30 hours of police training and also training in first aid and radiological defense.

Dina reported to the board that the civil defense has had equipment valued at $1,800 donated to the organization and that it has purchased equipment with a value of $8,732 for an outlay of $154.

Robert Hamilton, village engineer, reported to the board that weather conditions have been holding up completion of the new sewer system. The sewage treatment plant is practically completed. The grounds there will be graded and seeded by the contractor when weather permits. Further landscaping will be done by the village.

A building permit for a new home was issued to the New Lenox Lumber Co.

Frankfort to Install New Mercury Lights

The Frankfort village board at its meeting Monday discussed the proposed sewer system, decided to install five mercury vapor lamps on Kansas street between Hickory and Ash, and studied preliminary drawings for an addition to the present municipal building to provide accommodations for present and future equipment of the volunteer fire department.

A revised estimate of cost on the proposed fire house addition shows a substantial increase over the original figure, according to Trustee Lynn Kohlhaugen, who submitted the plans. Originally it was thought that the addition could be erected for between $8,500 and $10,000. Kohlhaugen said that the best estimate possible to obtain at this time put the price at around $13,500.

How to finance such a project will require some study, it was pointed out so further discussion of the improvement will be deferred until some solution is arrived at.

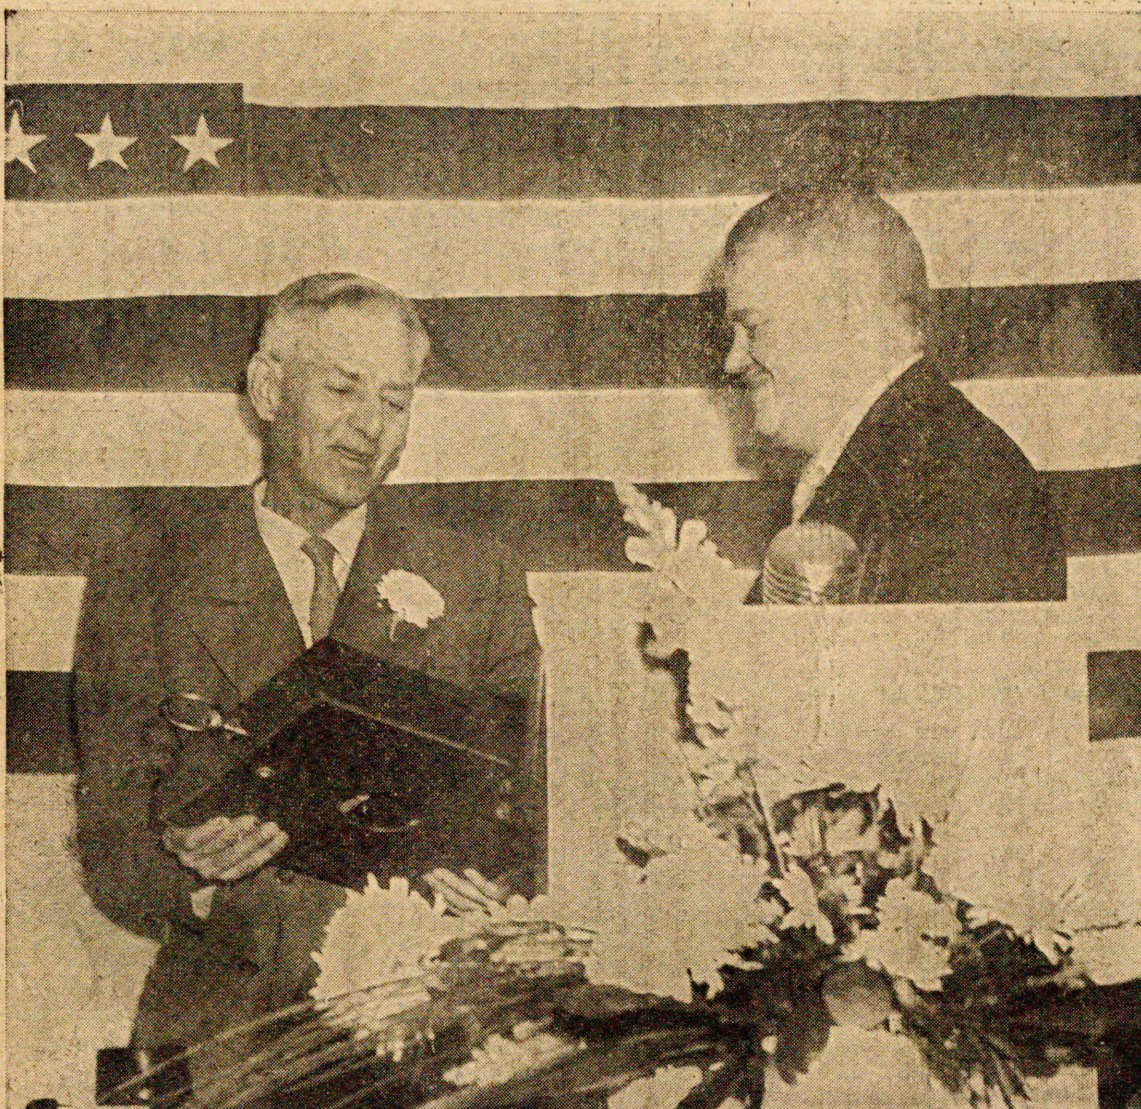

Installation of the five lights on the main thoroughfare will only cost the village about $200 more a year, the board was told by Sidney Westby, district manager of the Public Service Co., and will make the street much brighter.

Robert Hamilton, village engineer, discussed the proposed sewer system for the community and at the next meeting figures may be available on estimated cost of the program.

Walter Pfaff, village clerk, and Trustee Glenn Warning said they had encountered a few persons who wanted to know why the project could not be financed thru special assessment. Their contention was that the owner of a vacant lot would not be paying anything toward the redemption of revenue bonds but that if an assessment was placed against the property he would pay.

Hamilton explained that the owner of vacant property would eventually pay in as much as persons who connect with the sewer at the beginning. A connection fee, to be determined later by the board but probably between $100 and $150 would be assessed against the owner when the lot was improved, plus interest for the time elapsed between the installation of the sewer lines and the time he made use of them.

After the Prom

Sandburg Students Plan Lake Trip

The Geneva Jaunt is the title of the post-Prom activity at Carl Sandburg high school this year.

Last spring parents were concerned with the welfare of their youngsters at Prom time. This seems to be a night when all high school students celebrate by excursions to supper or night clubs and other spots following the party at the school. Driving the highways at night has led to many accidents, some of them fatal, in various localities thruout the country.

As a result parent groups, cooperating with the students, have planned excursions. Last year at Sandburg the "After the Prom" activity was a trip to Arlington Heights. It was so successful that students and parents are now planning one that should be memorable.

The prom this year is to be held the night of May 29, at the school. At 2 a.m. the couples will board buses that will carry them to DesPlaines and there board a Chicago Northwestern train for the George Williams Y.M.C.A.

College camp at Lake Geneva, Wis.

Any couple, of which one member is a junior or senior, can go on the Jaunt. No stags or dateless students are eligible. Another condition is that couples who make the trip must have attended the Prom.

The train will provide baggage cars for dancing, to a known band; and several lounge cars. There will be food too, with fathers acting as waiters. Arrival at the camp is scheduled for 6 a.m.

After breakfast the program calls for boating, hiking, golf, tennis, badminton, volleyball and if the temperature is right, swimming. This will serve the athletically inclined.

Also planned is a sight-seeing boattrip around the lake and three tours of the University of Chicago's Yerkes observatory, with its world famous 40 inch telescope.

Lunch at noon, western style and the group will entrain at 1:30 for the trip home. They will arrive at DesPlaines about 3 p.m. and take buses from there back to the school. Purpose of the outing is to cut down the Prom expense and provide a safer celebration. The price, which includes bus and train fare and feed is $12 a person. Those in charge say the price may be reduced if enough go.

Parents and students are needed to help this activity, it was stated, and those who would like to aid may get in touch with the student or parent chairman.

The committees are made as follows:

Steering: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Blount, Dennis Lavery.

Cooperative Program

Plan Classes for Handicapped

Establishment of a cooperative association for education of handicapped children of Southwest Cook County moved one great step toward reality last Thursday evening when 60 school board members and school superintendents representing 15 Southwest Cook County elementary schools met at the Central school, Tinley Park, to consider details of such a proposed organization.

These schools are located in Bremen, Worth, Rich, Orland and Palos Townships. More than 8,000 elementary school children are enrolled in the school districts represented at this meeting. Although Bremen Community High school and Carl Sandburg High school both of which serve the areas of the elementary schools in this organization, are taking no part in setting up the plan, Bremen Community High school was represented by one board member at the Thursday evening meeting.

This cooperative association for education of handicapped children was made possible by state legislation enacted two years ago. Since then the superintendents of the 15 elementary school districts have spent many hours in meetings in which the details of the plan presented were worked out.

Miss Cleone O'Brien, director of a pioneering cooperative association whose business affairs are conducted in offices supplied by Proviso Township High school, was the consultant for the evening.

A summary of a recent survey of the educational needs for handicapped children in the elementary schools represented was presented by J. Lewis Winegarner, secretary for the group and superintendent of the Markham schools. Details of the plan were presented by Superintendent Elsworth Bechtloff of the Palos Community Consolidated Schools.

The meeting was chaired by Walter F. Fierke, superintendent of the Tinley Park schools and chairman of the group of superintendents who formulated the plan.

At the close of the meeting each board of education represented was given copy of a resolution to be acted upon by each board, authorizing its superintendent to enter into the activities and obligations of the proposed cooperative (Continued to page 2)

Two Lincoln-Way Pupils Being Considered in Exchange Program

Barbara Ann Daugherty and Katherine Gersch, both students from Lincoln-Way High school in New Lenox, are being considered in the student foreign exchange program of the American Field Service.

Miss Daugherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Daugherty of Mokena, is under consideration for the "school program" which means attendance in a European school and living with a family there for at least one semester of the school year. Barbara has applied for one semester.

Miss Gersch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gersch of Lincolnwood, New Lenox, has reached the final selections in the "summer program." The final selections will be announced by the AFS by the first of April for the "summer program." If selected, Katherine would depart for any country in the world. She would go early in June and stay there thru the summer.

Both Lincoln-Way students have grade point averages over 3. This indicates a letter grade of B plus.

Six students applied for the foreign exchange program at Lincoln-Way. Some four thousand applied thruout the United States. Miss Daugherty and Miss Gersch were screened by the local committee of the AFS as the choice for Lincoln-Way. Members of the local committee are: Asst. Principal Earl Dieken, chairman; Margie Ardaugh, student council representative; Frank Goetsch, finance chairman; Rev. Ben Day, family representative pastor of the Frankfort Methodist church.

One of the girls' initial requirements was two years of a foreign language. However, they were not expected to have a specific foreign language. They had to be 16 years of age and a junior in high school. Another qualification was a scholastic average of at least a B. These were preliminary to the committee interview.

The aspirants were then required to write essays on their home, their family life, and a typical day at school. A final question to answer was: "Why do I want to live with a family in another country and what can I contribute?"

Miss Gersch writes: ".....I want to broaden my understanding of the world and her people—to know what they think, how they react, what they feel; to share their family life, customs and traditions. In order to gain this understanding I know that I will have to give of myself, to share with the family my ideals and beliefs; to be adaptable and accept circumstances as I find them; to take my place as a member of the family, sharing both privileges and responsibilities."

"I would like the opportunity to represent an American not synonymous with the 'almighty dollar,' but an American of friendliness, enthusiasm, sensitivity, kindness and modesty."

Barbara Daugherty suggested, "I want to show the family what American homelife is like and by becoming one of them we can both learn from one another."

The local AFS committee has submitted a recommendation for each of the girls. Miss Ella Jensen, exchange student from Denmark, has also recommended them to the national AFS office. Miss Jensen is a student at Lincoln-Way.

Barbara and Katherine are both contemplating college upon graduation from Lincoln-Way in June of 1960.

Plans are already underway by the Lincoln-Way Student Council to raise funds to send or pay for one-half fare for two exchange students. The cost of sending one will be approximately $525. This includes costs by boat and meals while on board. The cost of transportation to port is not included in this figure.

Kenneth Lorenz, sales chairman for the Student Council, has already announced that funds will be raised by the sale of birthday calendars at Lincoln-Way. This method, which was used to finance Miss Jensen's passage last year, was very successful.

FRANKFORT TO INSTALL—

were no longer practicable in this section of the country, Mr. Hamilton said, because there is no market for such bonds. Occasionally some small job involving only a few thousand dollars is financed thru special assessments, he stated, but in such instances the contractors take the bonds and peddle them at a large discount.

These discounts range from 20 to 40 and 45 per cent, according to available figures, Hamilton added. The result is that contractors put their prices up to compensate for losses.

So many persons in this region lost money on special assessment bonds back in the 30's that no one buys them except for speculation.

Recently some sharpshooters in Chicago, it was reported, have been buying up old special assessment bonds at 10 or 15 cents on the dollar and collecting on their nuisance value. They don't make much money on a bond, it was pointed out, but depend on volume.

The value of a sewer system cannot be measured by dollars alone, Hamilton pointed out. The convenience such a system offers and the protection it gives public health should be the main factors considered, he added.

Nominating petitions for candidates in the coming village election were approved by the board.

The incumbents whose terms expire this year are running for reelection, John Topp, Clyde Reils and Wayne J. De Porto. The only other candidate for file is Ames D. (Ted) Massey, operator of a motel and oil station.

Wabash Seeks to Escape Saturday Commuter Service
(CNS) The Wabash railroad has petitioned the Illinois Commerce Commission for permission to abandon Saturday commuter service except at Palos Park and Oak Lawn.

The case was heard Friday by ICC Examiner F. B. McElroy and taken under advisement.

Under the proposal, Saturday stops would be eliminated on train runs 12 and 13. Stops affected include Orland Park, Palos Park, Worth, Chicago Ridge and Oak Lawn.

A maximum of only 40 persons would be "inconvenienced" by the change, according to the railroad. The result would be a net savings of $19,000 annually.

Extend Deadline On Tax Payments In Cook County

(CNS) Up to a 3-month delay in mailing property tax bills is forecast by Cook County officials.

This could mean the usual deadline for the first installment on real estate taxes and full payment on personal property taxes will be extended to Aug. 1, said Edmund J. Brennan, central services department director.

The delay was said to be caused by appeal hearings yet to be completed, also by a processing bogdown in the assessor's office where leadership has changed hands three times in the past year, and other factors.

Each month's extension of payment deadline will cost the county about $400,000 for failure to collect taxes to retire interest bearing tax anticipation warrants.

Pity Plight of Rock Island, Road Urges ICC

(CNS) A picture designed to bring tears on behalf of Rock Island's finances, but which could also elicit them for the poor commuter's pocket book, is emerging before the Illinois commerce commission in the railroad's application for another 20 per cent raise in suburban fares.

The Rock Island case is scheduled to be closed Wednesday, March 11, with the testimony of two remaining witnesses: R. D. Igou, assistant engineer of capital expenditures, and Harold Miller, statistician and special assistant to the general auditor of the railroad.

One point that Mr. Miller will use in closing, railroad spokesmen disclosed, is that it will still be far cheaper to use the Rock Island than the family car to get to work daily which is the only alternative most commuters have.

At the American Automobile association figure of 9.76 cents per mile for driving, it costs $1.40 for a one-way trip of 14, 3 miles from 115th street downtown, plus at least $1.25 for parking in a municipal lot, or $93.15 for a month of 23 working days, while a 46-mile commutation ticket will only cost $16.55 under the proposed increase.

Cross examination has not brought it out yet, but figures introduced by the railroad add up to show that if the 20 per cent raise is allowed, it will be the fourth in six years, and will bring the fare to more than double the level before March 27, 1953. The exact percent will be 207.36.

PLAN CLASSES—

association. These are to be returned to Fierke before the end of March.

At that time plans for the actual formation of the cooperative association will be set in motion. First will be the employment of a competent director for the program. Offices will be set up at one of the elementary schools yet to be agreed upon. The director will proceed to complete the survey of needs, and then to seek qualified teachers for the handicapped children of the area. In the meantime the director will assist in the education of a limited number of handicapped children by cooperating with other neighboring school districts which already have such classes in operation provided these schools have room for outside children to be admitted.

This is the first major breakthrough in the education of southwest Cook County handicapped children. Few questions or statements at this meeting indicated any doubt about the need for such a program. Those present seemed to be interested only in how the task was to be accomplished.

According to a survey conducted by Nation's Business magazine, executives of leading U.S. companies expect 1959 to be a good year for economy. Of more than 175 executives polled, 93 per cent predicted an increase in sales.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM SWISHER
(Randall Photo)Zion Lutheran Church is Scene
Of Swisher-Schlundt Nuptials

The tolling of the tower bell at Zion Lutheran church Feb. 7, announced the wedding of Bonnie Schlundt of Waukesha, Wisc., and William Swisher, son of Mrs. Marion Swisher and the late Jack E. Swisher, and only grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Swisher, Tinley Park.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schlundt of Waukesha.

The Rev. Randolph Hahn officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Serving as candlelighters were Michael Goebel and Melvin Keuch.

The bride, escorted by John Hurst of Peoria, wore a gown of pure white silk. The Sabrina neckline and bouffant chapel train skirt were softly trimmed with French lace. She wore a fingertip veil and crown and carried a tri-line cascade bouquet of stephanotis chains and amazon lilies studded with tiny pink Carol Ambling roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Deanna Morgan, wore a white ballerina length chiffon gown with bouffant skirt and pink and rose cummerbund with streamers.

Bridesmaids were Kay Swisher, Fran Swisher and Sandra Edwards, who were dressed in soft white chiffon ballerina high necked gowns with full pleated skirts set off by dark and pale pink sashes and pink shoes. The girls' bouquets of tiny pink roses centered with the larger pink aristocrat roses were backed with mahogany velvet tubing leaves and streamers.

Janice Swisher, the junior bridesmaid, was dressed in pale blue organdy. Her bouquet was as the bridesmaids' in miniature version. She wore a little crown of roses in her hair.

Jeannie DeHority dressed in pale pink organdy was flower girl. She too, wore a little band of pink roses in her hair and she carried a little lace basket of rose petals which she carefully and skillfully handled, dropping a petal here and there as she walked down the aisle. Johnnie DeHority, three years old, the ring bearer, in his dark suit and pink rose boutonniere handled magnificently the ring adorned satin pillow as he marched down the aisle, escorting his sister Jeannie.

Serving as best man was Merle Funk. Ushers were Dale Hartwig, Jerry O'Neil, Jerry Fouts, and Belvin Baer.

The bride's mother wore a navy gown with pink accessories. Her corsage, like the groom's mother's, was of amazon lilies and stephanotis — the same flowers as the bride carried in her bouquet. Mrs. Marion Swisher, mother of the groom, was dressed in sapphire blue silk shantung. Mrs. Trudie Swisher, the groom's grandmother, wore a grey gown, as did Mrs. Carol Funk. The grandmothers' corsages of stephanotis were also as the bride's flowers.

Mrs. Virginia DeHority, sister of the bride, carried the bride's guest register. Mrs. Melvin Rensink played the organ. Walter Weir was the soloist.

The church altar was decorated with bouquets of white calla lilies, white snapdragons, and white pompons.

Three pair of seven branch candelabra and aisle candelabra down the center aisle of the church helped to furnish the setting for the beautiful candlelight service.

A reception for 300 guests was held in the church hall following the ceremony, where Judy Roe and Doris Dini served punch and opened gifts.

The young couple left by plane for a one week trip to Miami, Fla. They now reside at 1257 Ridge rd., Homewood.

The bride was previously employed at the Waukesha Daily Freeman, Waukesha. The groom is a salesman for P. J. Murphy Associates.

Bank savers can answer best; and these are the principal reasons that many of them give. And at the bank, savers can tend to other banking matters at the same time they save; can call on experienced help with money matters of many kinds. Sophomores Help Bremen to Tourney Victory

Sophomores John Ragsdale and John Mannaioni made the difference in a pressure-packed final quarter as Bremen defeated a fair Thornton Fractional team, 54-50.

Fractional fought back from a bad first quarter and with three minutes until the last buzzer found themselves behind, 42-39.

It was at this point that the sophomores took charge. Ragsdale took a lead pass from Miffilin and laid in a basket. Fractional missed. Ragsdale dribbled up the center, faked and then whipped in a good 15-foot jumper. Bremen led 48-39.

Things were far from over. Kaegebein of Fractional came off the post with a driving basket. Jim Mannaioni missed a foul shot. Kaegebein was back with a foul shot.

Kline of Fractional helped close the gap with a long jump shot at 44-44. Samide made one of two free shots and it was 43-45, Bremen.

Jim Mannaioni hit on two charity efforts and Bremen was out front again, 50-45.

Kaegebein scored two quick baskets for Fractional. He hit on a driving lay-up and then on a steal. It was pressure again at 50-49, Bremen. This was excitement for the fair crowd. Soph Mannaioni was fouled in the back court. John walked to the line and scored both of them, 52-49.

Mr. Kaegebein scored on a free toss. Again the young sophomore Mannaioni found the range—this time with a jump shot from the keyhole.

John hit on three more of four foul attempts as Bremen began to pull away—on the strength of the performance of the two young men.

Miffilin was the top Brave basket man with a total of 16 points. Ragsdale was second with an even dozen. Bob Rodger, all-conference forward, was good for 11.

The game was somewhat below what the Braves potential appears to be, but they got the shots and they made them when needed to thwart the Fractional rushes.

Bremen, with this victory, earns the dubious honor of meeting the powerful Thornton Township. They made shambles of Morgan Park Military in the opener, 85-42.

Carl Sandburg meets Oak Lawn in the 7:00 p.m. game tonight at Thornton.

This will be Bremen's only win in the regionals. Thornton, though they didn't look good, should be the easy victor on Thursday evening.

Braves Clinch Third With Win Over Sandburg

The Bremen Braves defeated Carl Sandburg, 63-55, to clinch third place in the season finale at Orland Park last Friday evening.

This was the Braves seventh win in 12 conference engagements for the year.

Jim Miffilin, recently star in the Bremen attack, paced the scorers with a total of 22 markers.

Bremen had its usual good night from the floor with a 46% shooting percentage.

Don Arnold scored 17 for the losing Eagles.

Both coaches used the bulk of next year's team.

Bremen and Sandburg should be quite evenly matched next year and both should be rather rugged to whip in the SWS.

Trojans Trample L-W in Regional

Bloom Township was unimpressive in its easy, 77-49, victory over the Lincoln-Way team last Tuesday evening in the beginnings of the Joliet Regional basketball tournament.

Bloom won because the Knights were not hitting at all.

If Kruzich's "smaller" team would have hit any percentage of its shots they had plenty of good shots — the Trojans would have had a difficult night.

As the game wore on it proved conclusively that the Bloom team did not know what to do with a driving shooter. They knew only to

A SOCIAL INTERLUDE? It looks like the ball has been forgotten and the players squared away for folk dancing but this really wasn't the situation. The situation was that practically all players on the Bremen and Thornton Fractional teams had swarmed around the backboard and were lunging or jumping for the ball with the result that there were many and varied collisions. In the center is Randle El. of Bremen. The picture was taken at the Regional tournament game Tuesday night in which Bremen nosed out Thornton Fractional. The games were played in Thornton High school, Harvey. (Marvin Smith photo)

Sandburg to Have Two Wrestlers In State Finals This Week-End

A pair of Carl Sandburg high school wrestlers, a veteran and a rookie, will enter the state finals of the IHSA wrestling tournament this week-end at Arlington Hts.

Al Jaklich, 165 pound grappler who has competed in the finals at 175 joins Ron Risner, 103 pounder wrestling in his first year. Jaklich took a second place in the state finals last year at 175 pounds.

Both boys won the right to advance to the finals competition by scoring first place wins at the Blue Island Sectional. Sandburg finished 4th in the team standings behind Thornton, Bloom and Oak Lawn.

Risner beat Gruhn of Bremen in the finals 5-4 while Jaklich victimized Wittrakus of Thornton in the finals.

Gruhn advanced to the finals in state competition last year. Jaklich finished second in the sectionals last year and third the year previous. The Sandburg senior wrestled at 175 pounds during most of the season, but took the drop to 165 for the tournaments.

Special Cage Event on Card At Sandburg

Age versus youth and teacher versus father will be the lineup in the annual Father's Club basketball game card at Carl Sandburg High school on Saturday, March 14.

A team of senior students will meet the members of the Sandburg coaching staff in the first game at 7:30 p.m. This affair will be followed by the Father's Club - Faculty tussle that promises to be one of the really unique hardwood contests of the year.

All proceeds from the game will go to help pay expenses for the all-school sports banquet held in the spring.

Fathers interested in playing should call H. M. Albers at GL 8-0875. Practice sessions will be held on Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

By Dean Dallas

Lincoln-Way basketball team gave some indication of the things that should come to pass next season with its rousing victory over Evergreen Park.

This marked the Knights' third win of the season. Joe Kruzich has taken a group of "green" underclassmen and wielded a potential unit that should mean "big trouble" for the front runners in the SW Suburban League next year.

With no height, no experience (there wasn't any), and his own ulcers, Kruzich is to be commended for the advance of his squad.

They weren't worth an old "worn out shay" in the holiday tournament at Naperville, but showed considerable polish and shooting ability in the easy victory last Friday.

If Kruzich stays at the Lincoln-Way helm and he probably will (there aren't even any rumors abroad) the league doormat just might become the league door closer.

"Skip" Kruzich, Joe's son, a sophomore, has finished the season with a total of 320 points, not far down the list of SWS scorers, but his 44% in shooting is the remarkable thing. Everyone said that a sophomore couldn't make it in the SW Suburban. It seems that "Skip" has made it.

Much depends on young Warning, a 6' 2 or 3 inch junior. Warning has shown the spark at times, but only at times. He could well be the answer to Kruzich's height problem for next season.

Bremen's youthful Braves have posted an undefeated season in the SWS and elsewhere. Coach Emil Lussow, frosh-soph coach at Bremen, has sported and coached some of the top "stuff" among the young ranks in the conference.

His sporty lads will definitely add more of that ingredient that Bill Brown seems to get plenty of—scoring punch. With the likes of Rich Norbut, John Ragsdale, John Mannaioni, Jim's brother—all around finesse is coming on. Add these three or four men to Jim Miffilin and Jerome Randle El and you will see good basketball at Bremen in the next roundball season.

John Weber, former Lincoln-Way wrestler, is now a varsity wrestler at Bradley university in Peoria. John was runner-up for the state championship while a student at Lincoln-Way.

Recently Weber wrestled in the Wheaton Invitational tournament. He won his preliminary decision and in the semi-finals drew the best 167-pounder the college ranks can boast, Roy Conrad of Northern Illinois. Conrad h as never wrestled more than two minutes in any college match. He had pinned his opponent in every other previous meet.

Weber stayed with Conrad for 8 minutes—just short of being the first man that the ex-Marine, Conrad, could not pin. Weber finished fourth in the meet. Bradley finished fourth.

Backwood Trails

There has been much controversy among sportsmen in Will County over the method used of drawing duck blind sites on areas controlled by the Department of Conservation. Most sportsmen agree that it is unfair for two people to keep a blind each day through the season and prefer the former method of drawing to be re-established.

Formerly drawings were made on an off and on day basis. In this way, twice the amount of hunters were able to use the blind sites that now use them.

With the duck hunters facing a situation each year of fewer available hunting sites it would seem the return to the former method of blind drawing would be more practical. The Fairmont chapter of the "Ike Waltons" is already taking steps toward this goal.

The reputation of the Fairmont "Ikes" has ranged far and wide the past few years, due to their ability to deliver on any job. They boast not only a fine local membership, but a good representation from towns throughout Northern Illinois.

Remember two things—one, fish are where you find them and in the spring they can be anywhere. So, first, you've got to locate them. Second, you've got to choose lures that cover every nook and cranny which fish will frequent this spring.

Try this method when you head for your favorite fishing this spring. Start fishing the shore with surface and subsurface lures. Work them slowly because fish reflexes are slower in cold water. After 25 casts, switch to a lure that dives 5 to 10 feet deep and cast 25 more times.

Then try a lure that sinks rapidly, preferably a single-hook weedless model like a spoon and let it bump the bottom. Make 25 casts with this and if you still haven't located the fish, move on to the next spot and repeat the whole operation. Try this same method on every type of shore line you can see, such as rock or gravel points, deep drop-offs, grassy shore lines, lily pads, sunken trees, inflowing streams, deep holes, sand bars, etc.

Have two anchors, one in each end of the boat, ready to drop when you locate the fish. Get the boat positioned at right angles to the fish and then start casting. If you don't drop the anchors but drift over the magic spot, you will spook every fish there.

To be successful in bait casting, you need patience and know how. You have to first be patient, the know how will come with time. Carry a good variety of plugs, deep runners, shallow runners and surface baits. Use bucktails, spinners, poppers in color combinations from light to dark.

A "fisherman" will travel to the same resort located on the same lake, each yearly vacation because he knows where the drop-offs and brush are that allow him to take fish each year without fail.

The "good fisherman" will try new lakes each year welcoming the challenge to find the fish and take them. He is likely to spend the first full day at the lake, just cruising the shoreline, looking for weed beds and sand bar drop-offs, lowering his line attached to a weight clamp, determining depth and trying to find fish feeding to see what they are feeding on.

The second day he will go fishing and find out if what he discovered the first day was right or not. Fishing is indeed a science, not just luck as some proclaim.

Did you ever hear this one?—A fisherman in his rowboat was out trolling quietly one morning in the fog. Out of nowhere came a big cruiser and banged into him. Fortunately, no real damage was done, but as the captain of

Knights Rise Up to Clobber Mustangs for First League Win

The Knights have been a conference doormat this season.

But—When you get a steed trying to buck the Knight; you, my friend, will see the steed tamed.

None of King Arthur's Knights ever lost to a horse. Lincoln-Way's Knights, a more modern variety with a basketball, clipped the Mustangs of Evergreen Park with a convincing 74-55 last Friday evening at New Lenox before a gleeful packed house.

This marked the first conference win for the New Lenox squad.

"My team was relaxed—not to the point of carelessness . . . they jelled as a unit . . . I just wished that we could have had the confidence of the first three wins . . . that is the wins we could have had, but dropped by one or two points in the last seconds . . . But we are happy to win . . ." rambled smiling Joe Kruzich, happy Lincoln-Way mentor.

"The boys won it," he finished.

But Kruzich walked away a happy man. He wasn't white-washed his frosh year in the SWS.

It was a night for the Kruzich's. Son, "Skip," netted a total of 9 field goals, and had a total of 13 assists—something for a high school guard. Kruzich made 9 of 14 shots . . . shades of Robin Hood.

L-Way literally played for the entire 32 minutes. They weren't up and down, but consistent for the full four heats. There were three quarters of 18 points and a deviation in the final of two—with a 20.

The usually good L-W defense was there, limiting a high scoring outfit to a total of 55 markers.

The season's finale was in a blaze of shooting glory. The Knights made a 47% shooting mark—second best for the year—at the same time they were totaling their top scoring effort (74).

Rebounding was another top for the Knights. The taller Evergreen quintet were beaten on the board by a 28-19 count.

Balanced scoring for the L-Way squad was a "great" first. For the first time L-Way had four men well over the double figure of 10. Jerry Haehnlein tied with Kruzich, Larry Iwena made 16 points and George Ruhl made 14.

John Jenner and Tripton of Evergreen each totaled 19 for the top scoring honors.

Not only is carbon monoxide deadly when taken in large enough doses, but small doses can slow a driver's reactions and cause him to have an accident. C. James Proud, president of the Advertising Federation of America, says: "Government officials who seek to tax advertising are like amateurs who try to remove an appendix. They are very apt to lose the patient. It is important to remember that advertising has traditionally been considered a cost of doing business, and not a product in itself. All businesses using advertising pay their fare and full share of taxes."

Sauk Village Leads in 1959 Home Building

(CNS)—Sauk Village, a new, corner among south suburban towns, has jumped off with the lead in suburbia's 1959 home building parade, the Bell Savings and Loan association reports.

The young village, located east of Chicago Heights, issued 194 home building permits last month, tops among 122 suburbs in the six county metropolitan area.

Des Plaines was second with 133, followed by Gary with 46, and Skokie, 37.

Markham, with 27, tied Wilmette and Aurora for fourth place.

Tinley Park issued two permits for homes with a combined valuation of $34,066. Orland Park issued one building permit, valuation $28,000.

In today's traffic, cautions the Motor Club, danger can strike from any direction—and that includes the rear. The frequency of rear-end collisions on slippery roads is a strong reminder that drivers should make more effective use of their rear-view mirror. This means, of course, that it is essential to keep the rear window completely free of frost, ice or snow.

Civil Defense Director Sought; Council Will Make Appointment

Mayor Eugene K. Landenberger announced yesterday that the city government is seeking a qualified person for the post of Civil Defense director. "We are not looking for an expert in civil defense," Landenberger said. "However, a military background or police experience might be helpful. The individual we select will have to spend considerable time in working out an adequate civil defense plan in cooperation with local and state authorities. Some of our neighboring cities have found a civil defense organization extremely helpful in time of local disasters." He also noted that cities with an approved civil defense program can purchase certain types of equipment at a discount.

Interested individuals may call Mayor Landenberger SY 8-3290 or Alderman Hoewing SY 8-0563.

The regular meeting of the City Council was held Monday, Feb. 23 at the model house. The new city hall is not quite ready for occupancy.

Alderman Nally reported that the city received a motor fuel tax rebate of $1,054 for January. Alderman Goertner reported that $31 worth of chemicals had been purchased for use on the streets to break up the ice.

City phones have been installed in the following places: Mayor Landenberger's home, SY 8-3290; Mrs. Virginia Dennison's home, SY 8-2777; and City Hall, SY 8-2616.

The treasurer, William Baader, gave an accounting of funds. As of Nov. 13 the balance on hand was $1696.63. Receipts to Feb. 9 were $349.10, exclusive of vehicle tax. Total receipts in the general fund to Feb. 9, $2045.73. Disbursements amounted to $955.15. Total cash on hand, $1090.58.

A report was made of the Vehicle Tax Fund also. Collections have amounted to $1691. The bonds for the mayor, city clerk, and treasurer were approved by the city council, as was payment of the fees for same.

A resolution was passed to accept plat No. 7 except for minor changes to which the builder, the Beverly Home and Improvement Co. (J. E. Merion, president) has agreed. Plat No. 7 covers the area to be known as Unit VII which covers the area from 189th st. to 191 st (Flossmoor road) and from Cicero avenue to Kostner. Work is scheduled to begin immediately on this unit.

Ottmer Becker, city building inspector, asked for an appropriation of $25 to join the Building Officials Conference of America, an organization which publishes information concerning building materials, methods and information on all new products with a recommendation as to the worth of the product.

Mr. Becker also asked that another $25 be appropriated as the fee for a seminar for building officials being held at the Western Society of Engineers for a period of five weeks. Mr. Becker is attending this seminar every Thursday. He is donating his time and also one day's pay each week to attend these meetings to better equip him for his job as building inspector.

Several resolutions were passed. One resolution pertained to the adoption of building codes by reference. Another resolution regarded the approval of plats.

Total cash collection for the Heart Fund as of last Sunday night was $235.25, it was announced by Mrs. Rusty Wilson, city chairman. She also said that those not at home when the canvassers called, are asked to please send their contribution to her in the next two weeks. Mrs. Wilson's address is 1257 John ave.

Boy Scouts

The paper drive has been a huge success and a rough estimate of the paper, magazines and other paper products collected will bring enough to purchase two tents. This amounts to about one fourth of the equipment needed. The boys will be out collecting again this Saturday, and continue the schedule of the collection 1st and 3rd Saturdays.

The boys ask that if possible the paper be tied in bundles to expedite the collection and save them the extra work of bundling it after collection.

The troop is the recipient of two United States flags, one suitable for outdoor ceremonies and parades and the other one for indoor ceremonies. The troop wishes to thank the donors of the flags, Robert E. Adler, Sr., a committee member and father of one of the scouts, and Ray Bergmann, a committee member.

Cub Pack Meeting
The Cub Pack meeting held Feb. 27 at the Thomas Lane schools was very lively. One of the projects for the month was for each boy to make a musical instrument at home. The musical instruments were varied in size, kinds and how much noise each could produce. There were many in the percussion class, washboard played with thimbles, bells made from pottery flower pots, pot top cymbals, and wash tub drums. A lot of many kazooes used in the formation of trumpets, clarinets and some had rigged up stringed instruments. Each den had a turn presenting a musical number on their instruments.

Several skits were presented complete with scenery and backdrop. Den 3 presented Betty Boop, Popeye and the Wolf. Den 2 presented a skit on the birth of Abe Lincoln. Den 4 gave a reading on the famous men born in February. Den 5 presented a skit, "In Days of Old When Knights Were Cold."

Each of the boys had made floats at home on their toy trucks and all were on display at the meeting. The three judges picked to decide which Den had the best floats and called it a tie between Dens 4 and 6.

The Pack had attained the God and Country award and this was presented to the pack by William Marquardsen, the Neighborhood commissioner.

New Fire Stations A Necessity

You can't float a boat without water—neither can you fight a fire.

The Mokena and Frankfort fire departments, both volunteer organizations, are under a handicap now in fighting fires outside municipal limits. There are hydrants inside the villages from which firemen can draw water but outside municipal limits they must depend upon the water they carry with them.

These departments have pumps that also are equipped with a tank from which the water is drawn. These carry about 500 gallons. This is sufficient to stop a blaze if it is reached quickly enough but in case of fires in outlying areas the flames have gained considerable headway before firemen can arrive. That calls for more water.

To meet this need Mokena and Frankfort departments have each purchased an additional tanker to carry extra water. But the stations in use to house the equipment are not large enough to accommodate the tankers.

As a result the tanks could not be kept this winter. The water would have frozen in them. Consequently when an alarm came in there was delay in getting extra water to the fire. The tanks had to be filled.

The remedy, of course, is to store the equipment in heated quarters. To this end the Mokena firemen have purchased a lot and contracted to erect an engine house there. In Frankfort the village board is having plans drawn for an addition to the present firehouse.

The situation involving support of the fire departments differs in the two villages. Both departments are made up of volunteers. None of the members receive any form of compensation. The Frankfort department receives some support from the village taxes but the Mokena department does not receive any tax money.

The village of Frankfort will build the addition to the engine house in that village when it has the funds available.

Everyone concerned hopes that the construction will take place this spring or summer. There is no question but that the addition is necessary.

The Mokena firemen depend solely upon contributions from the public to purchase and maintain equipment. They give a dance each year and have a booth at an outdoor village fair each year and the proceeds keep the department going. It answers calls any place in the area.

In order to build a fire station the Mokena department must turn to the public for support. It is estimated that the house will cost approximately $18,000. So far only $5,000 has been subscribed but the firemen have not completed their canvass of residents of the area.

It is to be hoped that the response by the public will be generous; actually it must be if the project is to be successful. It is not necessary to pay one's contribution in one sum. One may extend the payments over a three-month period.

Thru the use of installments the fire department hopes for a larger subscription than perhaps would be made if it were a matter of making full payment when solicited.

We have been using the words, contribution, donation and generosity but we do not wish to imply that this is a charitable enterprise.

People who contribute to the firehouse building fund are not giving to charity. They are benefitting themselves; they are protecting their own property. In a community without a fire department the insurance rates would be so high as to be prohibitive to the average householders.

So when canvassers from the Mokena fire department stop at your house and ask for your contribution, please be generous. The house you save may be yours.

settle the stomach when the vomiting begins. Almost invariably the child will be given a little water or soft drink after throwing up. The cycle is repeated several times before the parent seeks advice. The speediest way to stop the nausea is to put the child to bed and offer him or her absolutely nothing, not even a drop of water, for at least four hours. This will almost always settle the stomach enough to allow the child to keep down an ounce or two of fluids every half hour or so.

The same treatment is effective when diarrhea develops. Nothing should be given to the patient for six hours except diarrhea medicine and even this should not be administered if nausea is present. Once improvement begins, the diet should consist only of fluids, bananas and applesauce until one is certain that the stomach and intestinal tract definitely on the mend.

Space does not permit a detailed description of the so-called contagious diseases but similar problems of home care arise in all, whether it be mumps, measles or chicken pox. The child will need aspirin and occasional sponging with alcohol for fever and comfort, avoidance of bright light in measles, measures to control itching in chicken pox. The great majority of children will recuperate nicely with this program of home care.

ANSWERS MR. BURNETTE

March 1, 1959

Dear Sir:
I have read Mr. Burnette's letter in the Feb. 26 issue of the Tinley Park Times. As a close friend of Mr. Murphy, and as a member of Parkside Homeowners Association, I feel that some response to his remarks are necessary.
First: Mr. Burnette's attempts to justify the proposed sewer plan have a familiar ring. Those who have been concerned enough to attend Village Board meetings have heard most of these same arguments expressed by advocates of the plan.

Second: The inference that Mr. Murphy has claimed to represent all the people in Parkside is ridiculous and Mr. Burnette knows it if he is as well informed as he appears.

Third: Mr. Burnette's circle of friends obviously does not include members of Parkside Homeowners Association who live both to the north and south of him.

Fourth: Knowing personally of his performance, I also want to go on record: Mr. Murphy does represent me. I agree with his opposition to the sewer proposal. I might add that views expressed by Mr. Murphy have resulted from the collective thinking of all the members of Parkside Homeowners Association.

Fifth and most important: Having disagreed with Mr. Burnette, I still concede that he has a right to his own opinion, based on his sources of information, his own sound thinking and "mature judgment". After reading Mr. Burnette's letter, however, one might get the impression that he recognizes "mature judgment" only in those people who agree with him. Well, now!

Scholarships Go Begging; Lack Applicants

Students in the upper 25 per cent of high school classes who find college financially out of reach, are missing an opportunity by not investigating the many scholarships available to needy students. It is not necessary to be a straight "A" student to be eligible for these scholarships. A college education is possible for almost everyone with ambition and determination.

Many scholarships go ment" only in those people who agree with him. Well, now!

I believe that the majority of Tinley Park residents, at least those who intend to remain in Tinley Park and help pay the bill, would like to have the most expensive and elaborate sewer system available. Unfortunately the average working man cannot afford the most expensive and elaborate sewer system.

According to Noah Mason, Republican congressman from the 15th district, our enemies are doing very well but it is costing us a pretty penny.

In the 12 years between 1945 and 1957 we have given more than $22.5-billion to seven Communist countries, Albania, East Germany, Poland, Hungary, Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, and Yugoslavia. Then just recently we gave Poland another $193-million so that brings the total up past $2.5-billion.

And the only thing we have gotten out of it has been complaints from these countries that we haven't given enough. That and a lot of threats and abuse.

"It is bad enough to spend our billions on countries making up what is called 'the free world,' says Cong. Mason, 'but how can anyone explain why we give our billions to our enemies? Contributions that we give to our enemies are lost. Who would give a dime for the accounts?'"

Then Mr. Mason asks the billion dollar question—where does the money come from? And the answer is simple. It comes out of the taxes we pay.

It seems difficult for people to understand that they are the only source of revenue for a government. There is no money tree hidden away at Washington or Springfield. And there is no magical formula for producing money out of an empty hat. It has to come from our pockets.

According to Mason the average worker has to toil three months out of the year to support the government.

The federal government has been planning another raid on the pocketbooks of car owners but congressmen are reported to be cool toward the idea. The federal government now gets 3 cents a gallon from the sale of gasoline and wants to make it 4 1/2.

Proponents of the gas tax hike say it is necessary to finance the multi-billion dollar highway program, now in the red. Many experts take exception to this. They claim that if the existing federal automotive excise taxes that are now being diverted to the treasury's general fund and applied to the highway fund there would be adequate money to complete it.

Motorists are getting a bit fed up with gasoline taxes.

COMMON CHILDHOOD DISEASES

Part II

The great majority of childhood diseases can be classified in one of three groups: colds and respiratory infections, stomach and intestinal flu and the so-called contagious diseases such as measles and chicken pox. There is usually considerable overlapping of symptoms in these conditions.

Measles frequently begins with what appears to be a cold and sore throat. However, a child may have the same complaints before developing stomach flu.

Once the disease becomes clearly established, each type has its own characteristic behavior as a general rule. Technically a cold is simply a 48 to 72 hour long illness which produces a slight fever, runny nose and raw throat. We all know that colds seem to last longer and to involve more troublesome symptoms than I have listed. This is because

The federal and state bite amounts to some 41 per cent of the retail price. Even top luxuries don't carry a tax like that. And certainly gasoline can't be considered a luxury in this day.

That is enough gloom for one day.

March came in like a lamb. We have had some sunshine and spring shouldn't be more than two or three more snow storms away.

But unless we get an old fashion spring to match the winter we can figure on keeping the home fires burning for months to come.

Saw quite a novel TV drama the other night. No one went to prison; no one escaped from prison; no one was killed; no one had a criminal past and no one went insane.

The program director probably will get a lot of bitter letters about that.

It would seem that the only type show that carries a message is one with a life-is-real-life-is-earnest theme. If you don't believe look over the awards made to plays in the movies or the theater. The comedies apparently are never considered.

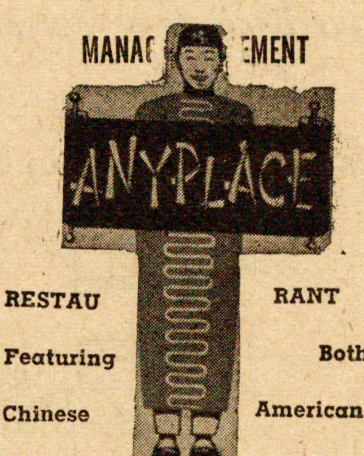

And we need to laugh. Especially after all the depressing "messages" loosed by playwrights and novelists.

cause a cold makes one susceptible to other germs which take advantage of the lowered resistance to invade the system and cause further throat and bronchial infection. Treatment of the cold itself requires only rest, extra fluids and aspirin. The secondary infections which frequently complicate a cold may require the use of antibiotics.

Flu is a commonly used term which actually includes a variety of virus infections which affect the respiratory or digestive systems and sometimes both at the same time. The flu may start with symptoms of a cold although there is usually a higher fever and more discomfort from aches and pains. The chest then begins to feel tight and a cough develops. Once again the doctor cannot provide much more relief than is available with the usual home remedies: aspirin, soothing cough medicine and steam inhalations to keep the cough loose. Ordinarily the fever and ill feelings will disappear in three or four days but a dry hacking cough may persist for a week or two, even though the individual feels well otherwise. As with colds, failure to improve after a few days probably indicates additional infection that may require treatment with antibiotics.

When the virus infection involves the digestive system it may produce repeated vomiting, severe diarrhea or both. Many parents have the false notion that there are ways to

No. III. Gas Shows Gains in Customers and Revenue

Provisions for present and future growth continued to dominate Northern Illinois Gas Company operations this 1958, according to its president, Marvin Chandler in the utility's annual report released yesterday.

Increase of 31,596 customers, release of 78,000 gas house-heating permits, and progress in developing additional underground storage facilities were among NI-Gas' achievements in 1958.

Chandler reported that last year's total gas revenues of $91,058,000 were about 8 per cent higher than the previous year. Earnings per share of common stock were $1.41, an increase of 5 cents per share over 1957. Quarterly dividends on common stock stayed at 22 cents per share as in previous years.

Addition of new customers by Northern Illinois Gas continued at about twice the national rate, Chandler said. The utility at year's end was serving nearly 630,000 customers in 276 communities. Its service territory covers 20 counties in northern Illinois (outside Chicago).

As 1958 closed, about 278,000 of NI-Gas' customers were heating their homes with natural gas. The report predicted the company will have approximately 320,000 house heating customers when the remaining single family homes already authorized gas heat are connected. Pending applications for gas heat now number around 90,000.

Intensified efforts to develop additional underground storage fields were directed toward NI-Gas' aquifer project near Troy Grove (north of LaSalle) and a sizable increase in capacity of Herscher storage reservoir. Both projects are under going tests, Chandler said.

NI-Gas' daily natural gas supply was raised by nearly 60 million cubic feet in December when Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America completed a major pipeline expansion project.

Northern Illinois Gas also has contracted, subject to regulatory approvals, to receive an additional 114 million cubic feet of gas daily from three pipelines: Northern Natural Gas Company, Midwest Gas Transmission Company, and Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Company.

Chandler said these increments, when received, would enable NI-Gas to offer natural gas for space heating to substantially all on the present single family waiting list. The utility also is studying further pipeline supply additions of up to 100 million cubic feet daily by the end of 1960, he revealed.

Stepped up activities of NI-Gas Supply, Inc., the utility's wholly owned subsidiary, also were reported. At the end of 1958, the exploration subsidiary had participated with six experienced operators in drilling 73 wells. Of these, 45 are producers. Gas from 12 of these wells already is being delivered to Natural Gas Pipeline, one of NI-Gas' suppliers. The gas and oil to be sold ultimately from the producing wells will more than pay for drilling expenditures to date, according to the report.

NI-Gas construction expenditures in 1958 totaled $22,047,000 an increase of about $3,500,000 over 1957. The utility's five-year (1959-63) construction program is projected at $158 million. This includes $32 million for underground storage facilities and $12,500,000 for the proposed 140 mile connection with Northern Natural Gas Company pipeline.

Chandler estimated the five year program will require raising $115 million of new capital. He said $35 million may be needed in 1959; most of this would be met by sale of mortgage bonds, with the balance from preferred stock sales.

Business and Finance

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Some philosopher once defined a successful business man as "a man who is able to make shrewd decisions on insufficient information." Such a statement over simplifies, somewhat. The shrewd decision may be based on insufficient information about the matter at hand, but on the basis of previous experience, fall into a pattern on which the decisions are made. The more accurate phrase might be "informed guessimate." Profits, naturally, will be greater before all the facts are well known and no risk remaining.

For this ability, executives receive substantial incomes and find it very easy to find, if necessary another firm seeking this ability.

Successful investing ability, is often defined as an "art" based on mathematics, economics and general knowledge of the business world. It is not an exact science. Medicine is also described as an "art" based on scientific information.

Many investors are what are termed "romantic or emotional" investors. They invest in big names, or firms which are well known to them generally, but not specifically in relation to their investment values as compared with values of other situations available. They are employed by particular firms and are quite sure that particular firms stock is attractive without comparing this firm with other possibilities in a completely objective manner. Generalities are usually false in specific examples, but it is often pointed out the investor should be careful in investing his funds in the same place where he is risking his employment continuity.

A close study of the financial achievements of firms within an industry, seems to indicate that the most successful period in a firm's history, is when that firm has grown to the point where it is in the upper half of medium sized firms in the particular industry.

The best check of this fact, is had in a study of charts showing market values of the company's common stock over a period of years and note the angle of increase in values. Of course such charts are accurate statistical evaluations which adjust for stock dividends, etc. The market values over the years, reflect the opinions of investors over a period of time, backed by their investment funds.

Such charts are available to anyone willing to pay for them. The investor without training on how to use such information, may be led down false pathways. Care should be taken to compare only like situations rather than the rel-

Troop 40

The Mokena Cub Scouts, troop 40, celebrated the 49th year of Scouting with a successful blue and gold banquet at St. John's United church. 136 Cub Scouts, their fathers, den mothers and guests attended the affair. James Pels was the master of ceremonies and songs were led by Harold Behen. The Rev. William J. Riemann gave the invocation and a short talk honoring Russell Geuther, former Scout in Mokena, who is now a Boy Scout executive in Wisconsin. Mr. Riemann said he hoped at least one of the boys present would go on in Scouting too.

Honored guests were the Rev. Mr. William J. Krutza, minister of the Baptist church, the Rev. A. J. Bueltmann, minister of the Lutheran church, George Gorman, Mrs. Hans Mueller, Mrs. George Gorman, Mrs. Ray Hoohehan and Jerry Long, District scout executive. Art Omland, leader of Boy Scout troop in Mokena, and Tom Booble, committeeman in charge of Den Mothers.

Special awards were presented to Mrs. Gorman and Mrs. Hoohehan for serving faithfully as den mothers for three years. George Gorman was presented with a sleeping bag for the camping trips with the Explorers. Mr. Gorman was Cub Master of troop 40 for three years. The following awards were presented to these boys who earned them: Paul Schuh, silver arrow, (Wolf badge); Dick Lehmann, gold and silver arrow (Wolf badge); Ken Corniels, silver arrow (Bear badge); Martin Stanisz, Wolf badge; Mike Larson, Wolf badge; Bear badge and gold arrows to Russell Davies, Dale Booble, Paul Behen, Jim Burkhardt, Alan Hostert, Gregory Spiess, Douglas Pels, Mike Derig; Lynn Gilmore, Lion badge and gold arrow.

Each den of boys, their fathers and den mother, sat together with colorful decoration on the tables that the boys had made at their den meetings. Mokena should be proud of its growing Cub Scout program. Next pack meeting is March 26. Den Mothers meet ative value of horses and cows. The firm in the upper half of the medium sized grouping often has a great percentage of earnings to capital investment. Cost controls often are under more firm management. As firms get very large, actual stock ownership resigns its control to professional managers. It is often said that "there is no substitute for the boss's eye."

In the very large firm the individual often becomes less and less important and decisions taken thru meetings and groups only. Too often such meetings and group action is a means whereby the individual avoids personal responsibility for any action thereby taking less personal risk for the success of his judgment. Management becomes brittle. The firm not quite in the top flight of the particular industry, still retains the agility and aggressiveness of its younger days.

A few of the very large firms have been able to retain this aggressive attitude after achieving top flight position. This is a reflection of excellent management.

March 10 at the Carpenter st. school.

There is a field trip planned for the boys to the Museum of Science and Industry March 14. Parents are asked to cooperate in this wonderful phase of Boy Scouting and any man who is interested in being a committeeman or any woman willing to be a den mother are asked to contact Tom Booble, Mokena 3622.

Red Cross Relates Services in Area Thru Annual Fund Campaign

During March, the Red Cross will conduct its annual fund campaign in south suburban villages of Cook County. Mrs. William H. Horton, 14335 Oakley street, chairman of the Red Cross campaign in Orland Park, announces.

"Through their support, every person is at the scene of every disaster fire through the Red Cross volunteers who serve in the field of disaster and rehabilitation," said Mrs. Horton. "When you contribute to Red Cross you are at the side of every man in the armed forces, wherever he may be in any part of the world."

"There are a variety of Red Cross programs," Mrs. Horton continues. "In Orland Park, for example, during the last year at Carl Sandburg high school two classes in standard Red Cross first aid were offered. In the first, 57 were certificated, in the second, 102 were certificated."

The first of the classes was taught by Carolyn Rhode, 12232 72nd court, Palos Heights and the second class was taught by the Red Cross first aid representative for Orland Park, Bill Adams, 10096 West 147th street. Mrs. Sherman Knox of Brook street is the year around Red Cross public information representative for Orland Park.

In Tinley Park, Mrs. V. S. Miller, the year around public information representative is again the fund campaign chairman for the Red Cross. She stated that all members of the Tinley Park police and fire department are Red Cross first aid trained. Mrs. Miller related two Red Cross first aid classes were held in Tinley Park in the past year, with Wilbert Manzke of 17305 69th place teaching a standard course in which 10 persons were certificated, and Robert Bridge, 7112 W. 173rd place teaching an advanced first aid course in which 11 persons were certificated.

Mrs. J. F. O'Brien, 15126 Kenton, is the Red Cross public information representative for Oak Forest. Last year D. R. Stevens, 14040 S. Long avenue, Blue Island, gave junior first aid to 13 boy scouts, she said. The Oak Forest fire department is also Red Cross first aid trained.

In the Chicago Chapter area, which covers all of Cook and DuPage counties, 25,755 persons completed Red Cross first aid training last year, while 73,817 were certificated in water safety, accident prevention, and small craft safety courses.

School children also receive safety training through their own organization, the Junior Safety Council of the Red Cross.

First aid is just one of the examples of community programs provided by the Red Cross without charge. Other service programs are home care of the sick and injured, mother-baby care, water safety, as well as Junior Red Cross and production service. These all make clear one fact: "Red Cross is on the job when you need it most."

Employment Of Handicapped Is Threatened

Goodwill Industries of Chicago, a non-profit social service agency that employs, trains and rehabilitates the physically and mentally handicapped, is feeling the effects of the winter snows and storms. To provide work for the handicapped employees, Goodwill depends on the collection of clothing and other repairable household items which are contributed by residents in the Chicagoland area. Because the months of December, January and February have been unusually cold and stormy, Goodwill's collections of clothing have fallen off - so much so that Goodwill may be forced to curtail the employment of 26 of its 431 handicapped workers.

For most of us the effects of this winter have been measured in terms of shoveling snow and prying more to keep homes warm and comfortable, but employment has not been affected. Twenty-six handicapped workers of Goodwill Industries, however, have had to cope with the things we complain of, and now because of decreased material collections, they face the more difficult problem of possible unemployment.

TV Travel Show On March 13 Deals With Irish Scene

With St. Patrick's day close by now, it is appropriate that the Chicago Motor Club's TV offering, "The World Is Yours", scheduled for March 13, should be a film trip thru Ireland.

The show is seen on Channel 9 at 8:30 p.m. and is in color. On the following Friday, March 20, the program will cover Nassau, Bermuda and the West Indies.

and can do so without having to strain budgets or increase bills. All that is needed is to gather together the clothing and household items no longer needed and contribute these articles to Goodwill Industries.

Your contribution of clothing (in any condition) will help to keep them smiling and can be the means of providing enough materials so that Goodwill can keep on the payroll the 26 handicapped workers who otherwise would be released.

Call SEaley 8-3860 or drop a card to Goodwill Industries, 1500 W. Monroe St. Chicago 7, Ill. for a Goodwill pickup and a truck will collect the material you contribute.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Man's God-given right to freedom and health will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man".

Scriptural selections from the King James Version of the Bible will include Luke's account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the woman "which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself" (13:11-17).

The following will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (225:1): "What is it that binds man with iron shackles to sin, sickness, and death? Whatever enslaves man is opposed to the divine government. Truth makes man free."

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (64:8): "Now, O Lord, thou art our father; we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we all are the work of thy hand."

It's your duty as a motorist to be alert for pedestrians who may disregard traffic rules, says the Motor Club. Be alert at all times and practice courtesy behind the wheel of your car.
